PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT TRUNK LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction and Equipment
THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

THE SAFETY APPLIANCES

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER and PLATFORM
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH, AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars
are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis and St. Louis, WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

THE SCENERY
OF THE PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employes are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Office of the Company in all important cities and towns.

HEARTS AND HANDS.

In Overland Monthly.

I am a widow with one son and one daughter. We live on the Northwestern coast of Scotland, in a spacious house, built 150 years ago by one of our ancestors. I have heard that he was a naval officer in the British service, and had lived under the English flag, 'wherever the breeze could bear or ocean foam,' until, weary with roaming, he sought this world-forgetting spot, manifesting his enduring love for the ocean by settling within the sound of the siren's voice, yet safe from her embrace. The mansion which he built must be an emblem of himself—half feudal, half modern—clinging to graceful tradition, yet mindful of living facts. Everything in and around the dwelling and the place suggests to me the symptoms of family traits; the wild shore, uninvested save by the heaving ocean; the dark forest in one direction, looking as though its recesses might be the abiding places of bogies or of beautiful fairies; while, on the other hand, lay the desolate yellow hills, crowned by gray clouds that seemed ever unwilling to yield to sunshine.

The house itself suggested refined comfort. It was spacious and substantial. Every part of it was moulded with symmetry that lent grace to its strength, and clearly bespoke a nature cultivated and proud, secure of his own claims and confident of its own taste; but the lofty vestibule, the wide stairway, and the spacious halls were imbued with a gloom that no fancy decoration, nor music, nor laughter, nor the intoxication of wine could unbend, for there was an invisible presiding influence that seemed to penetrate the hollowness of mirth and to predict the briefness of joy. From long seclusion in such a haunt, my own mind has become assimilated to the atmosphere, and when I attempt gayety it is in the subdued form which expresses a due reverence for the stately gloom of surrounding associations.

It was a gloomy night, the rain poured heavily, but the winds lay still as if spectators of the performance of the pitiless flood—a slow heaving of the tide that was coming in full from the sea. The fire roared and crackled as if trying to be hilarious in spite of the sullen gloom without. Cousin William, my children and myself sat around the broad hearth, and a sympathetic silence seemed to fall upon us all. I tried in vain to think of something pleasant or cheerful to say, but as each idea presented itself I found some fault with it, as being too light, too sombre, or too commonplace to be worth the utterance.

At length, Cousin William—more in a tone, however, of soliloquy than of conversation—said:

'Yes! just thirty years to-night since he died.'

Anything was a relief to the long silence, and we all eagerly caught at the opportunity.

'Since who died?' 'Whom do you mean, Cousin William?' 'How strange that you should remember so well anything that transpired so long ago!' Who was it that died?'

'Anyone in whom we are interested?' I asked.

'Only a kinsman,' he said, 'and one of whom you have sometimes heard—our cousin Sir Hugh, who was once possessed of these domains; one who enjoyed the position and advantages which wealth and title gave, one who had a brilliant career, who should have had a happy life, but whose death was strange and sad.'.

'Do tell us,' I said, 'something about him. I have always felt a curiosity about him, for all the intimations I have had about him have been faint, indistinct glimmers—nothing plain and explicit like the details of our other dead kinsmen; and I am just in the mood to-night to enjoy a rummage into the secret drawers and hidden passages of the past; so, Cousin William, if you will lay aside your cigar and drink this glass of wine I know that you can make yourself so entertaining that the beating rain and moaning sea will be forgotten. I will even volunteer to place you on the train of the forsaken past by asking you if our cousin, Sir Hugh, was not a very eccentric sort of person?'

'Rather strange, I might say,' replied Cousin William, 'because his unlikeness to others did not show itself in overt actions, as do the whims of eccentric men. Society recognized him as one conforming to the rules and welcomed him as a leader who could dictate its opinions or grace his pleasures. His strangeness was known to those who mingled in his daily life, and who, like myself, looked up to him, and, by chance, looked into him. He had the faculty of obtaining the entire confidence of his associates without yielding anything in return, and, while seeming to open his mind to you, he was only penetrating your thoughts; so that, on comparing your revelations with what you had given all and received nothing.

'Was he handsome?' asked my daughter.'

'That was always a mooted point,' said Cousin William; 'those who had only a passing view pronounced him almost homely, while those who knew him well considered him incomparably handsome, the influence of his voice and manner being irresistible.'

'I can understand exactly how it was,' said I; 'even at this distance, I know that big cousin of ours and feel his power. I believe I can even tell you what portion of this house he built, for I can see it has some touches greatly differing from others. I believe that he built those two towers on the West side, that look like far seeing eyes, trying to catch visions of something longed for which never came and never was to come for him. I feel as though his heart longed always for the taste of some joy it could never reach, or was embittered by the thought of something foolishly thrown away.'

'You are romantic,' said Cousin William.

'Not romantic, if you please,' said I, 'only very impressible; for although, as you already know, I am a widow, possessed of a stout boy and budding daughter, I am not one of those dutiful dames who confer all their bloom upon their daughters and all their heart upon their sons. I still can boast roses on my own cheek and acknowledge some flushings of the heart when either dead or living heroes are the subject of conversation. 'No,' I reiterated, 'I am not romantic, but I can enter into some people's natures, though their possessors have been long dead, and I can gather them close to my heart, and suffer the longings that made them sick and mourn for the faults that made them forlorn. I wish I had lived when he lived, and had been his sister, or—'

'Or perhaps his sweetheart?' continued Cousin William.

'Did he have a sweetheart?' eagerly inquired my little son. 'Did he not love any of the pretty ladies?'

'He was married,' I said, anticipating Cousin William's reply.

'He was,' said Cousin William, 'but unfortunately marrying and loving do not always go hand-in-hand, and his was one instance in which, I think, they walked very far asunder.'

'And yet,' I said, 'from all you tell me, I imagine he might have chosen and been satisfied.'

'His success with women,' replied Cousin William, 'was without parallel. His slightest attention seemed to have more weight than the earnest devotion of other men. I might even say he was sought of women. Wealth, family position, personal fascination, all tended to make him the marked ideal of the female sex; but I fear that his choice fell in what he considered an unpropitious spot, and in this fact lay the secret of his strangeness. It was during the summer preceding his death that I became acquainted with incidents which opened many mysteries to me. He and I were affectionate companions, I being the younger of the two; and, as I have said, during the summer preceding his death he proposed that we should prosecute together a pleasure tour among the Highlands; so we set off provided with hunting and fishing implements, and for many days pursued our sports with much avidity—at least, I did, but I could afterward, in thinking of this expedition, recall the restless desire which Sir Hugh seemed to repress, while he exhibited an unconscious anxiety about something not present.

'We had pursued our sports for the space of ten days, when on the afternoon of the eleventh, we suddenly, and without any warning, arrived at a cottage situated snugly in the cleft of the mountain, looking like the nest of a bird. I was startled by the cultivated beauty of its surroundings, just in the midst of the mountain wilds, reminding me of some rare flower borne by the winds from a foreign shore, with no kindred blossom to bear it companionship. The welcome accorded us by the heads of the family proved that Sir Hugh was a valued if not a frequent guest. A look of inquiry showed me that all the usual family were not there; but the rustling of a dress, the sound of a light footstep, and in the door stood a young woman whose presence certainly answered to Sir Hugh's unuttered question. 'Miss Esther Montrose, allow me to make you acquainted with my cousin;' and I felt a soft hand for a moment within my own, a frank pressure, as though the introducer were a guarantee for any one, and in a few moments I was feeling myself unaccountably at my ease among total strangers. The father and mother, though their faces reminded one of the old Covenanters, were plain and kindly in their manner; and the daughter had that sweet graciousness, that dignity of innocence, that no fashionable training can ever confer, but which always accompanies a tender heart and a refined imagination. The hours passed unheard; and the days grew into weeks almost unheeded by either of us, I think, for the only time in my life, I saw Sir Hugh seem quietly happy.

'I cannot recall any of our conversation, but my memory of her is like the effect of any autumn day, and her beauty seems to have been made of the tints of the sea-shell, the color of jasmine and the feltered rays of sunshine. I watched Sir Hugh closely, and he did not forget his usual caution. His bearing toward her assumed a high tone of gallantry, mingled with sternness which I knew was effected; for several times when he thought himself unobserved, I read in his glance a passionate devotion which made me know that there was the talisman which in society shielded him from all the charms and wiles spread

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS

As we go to press nothing certain is known, except that the Nationals, who expected to sweep Ohio, the cradle of Greenbackism have lost on their vote, the Republican members of the organization, as we always predicted, going back to their party, leaving enough Democrats in it to throw the State to the Republicans. The Times gives the following summary, which shows considerable Democratic gains:

The elections yesterday appear to have resulted in a victory for the Republicans in Ohio. The latest returns indicate that the Republicans have overcome last year's Democratic plurality of 22,500 and elected their State ticket by a small plurality, and 10 of the 20 Congressmen. The Labor element that revolutionized Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo and other centres of population in 1877, has practically ended its mission by falling back into the old party lines, and the Greenback element has drawn its increased strength largely from the Democrats, while the Republicans have held their lines with unexpected firmness. Cincinnati, where the distinctive Workingmen's ticket polled over 9,000 votes last year, thus giving the Democrats nearly 3,000 plurality, has been recovered by the Republicans; certainly electing Governor Young over Goss, to succeed Banning,, and also defeating Sayler.

Indiana is reported Democratic on the State ticket by an increased majority, with two Congressmen probably wrested from the Republicans by the united efforts of the Democrats and Nationals, and the legislature in doubt. The doubt is as to whether the Republicans will have a majority on joint ballot or whether the Greenback men will hold the balance of power and control the election of Senator.

Iowa is Republican by probably half the majority of last year, and the delegation to Congress will pretty certainly stand as now—all Republican.

West Virginia seems to have maintained Democratic supremacy in the three Congressional districts, as was generally conceded by all parties.

At this writing (2.30 a. m. Wednesday) the result of yesterday may be summed up as giving the Republicans the gain of Ohio, and the opposition the gain of two and probably three Congressmen in Ohio and two in Indiana. The returns are more indefinite than usual, owing to the large number of candidates voted for in Ohio and Indiana, and the necessary delay in counting the vote. But half the State of Ohio is reported at this hour, and the careful estimates of the Republicans reported by Chairman Robinson and the Cincinnati Gazette refrain from a positive claim of the State; but the Republican gains are so uniform that there does not appear to be any reasonable prospect of reversing the current in the unreported districts sufficiently to give the victory to the Democrats.

LATEST.

The election returns still come in slowly, but from the Associated Press dispatches received up to 2 a. m., Thursday we judge that the great struggle for the political ascendancy in the next congress which will in a great measure influence and control the Presidential election, has been won by the democracy. The democrats have gained at least four and probably seven members in Ohio and Indiana. This settles the fate the republican party.

LATER.—The democrats have also secured a majority of the Indiana legislature on joint ballot insuring the election of a United States Senator. Huzza for the gallant Hoosier state which defies republican gerrymanders.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONFERENCE.

Capt. Brockway did not know certainly when the Conference was to meet, until Sunday evening, when a telegram directed him to be at Stroudsburg on Tuesday. Dr. Swisher, one of the Conferees, lived at Jerseytown, and could not be reached by telegram or mail, and Mr. Brockway had no power of substitution. He sent a special messenger, however, but the notice was not received until 6 o'clock Monday evening. Dr. Swisher rode all night to notify his patients, and arrived at Bloomsburg at day-light, on Tuesday morning, when the delegation stated for Stroudsburg on the earliest possible train. On arriving at Stroudsburg station, they were met by the delegation comirg from Carbon and Hazleton, and proceeded together in the street cars to West Stroudsburg. On reaching their hotels, to their surprise they found that thirty minutes before the known arrival of the trains, an organization was claimed to have been effected by the Conferees of Montour and Pike, and the alleged conferees of Lackawanna and Whites-Haven had been admitted! Monroe refused to sanction the outrage, and kept out. It is a little singular that those conferees, if they were such, should be in Stroudsburg the day before the time named, and did not wait twenty minutes for the arrival of the train, thus excluding from preliminary action the important counties of Columbia, Carbon, Luzerne and Monroe.

The subsequent proceedings we give below.

The conferees of Carbon, Columbia, Monroe and Luzerne counties, assembled at Indian Queen Hotel, Stroudsburg, Oct. 1st., at 3 o'clock p. m. Dr. Seem, of Monroe, John Hoffman, of Columbia, and J. C. Murray, of Carbon, waited upon the conferees assembled in the adjoining room and requested their presence to effect a temporary organization, which they respectfully declined.

On motion of David Lowenberg, of Columbia, Hon. A. G. Broadhead, of Carbon county, was elected temporary chairman, and on motion of Dr. Seem, of Monroe county, Dr. J. H. Schull, of Monroe, and Dr. T. J. Swisher, of Columbia county were made Secretaries.

Mr. Andrew Sebring, of Monroe, made a motion that the conferees from the Eleventh Congressional District, be requested to present their credentials, and that they be called in alphabetical order.

Columbia—David Lowenburg,
Dr. T. J. Swisher,
John Hoffman.

Carbon—Hon. A. G. Broadhead,
Paul Kreiger,
Chas. J. Murray.

Monroe—Dr. J. H. Schull,
Andrew Sebring,
Dr. A. H. Seem.

Pike county—called—no response.

Montour county—called—no response.

Luzerne—S. B Price,
John A. Gorman,
J. B Hutchinson,

On motion of Dr. A. H. Seem of Monroe, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS. There appears to be some dispute as to who are the proper conferees from Luzerne county, heretofore comprising a part of this Congressional District. Therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to investigate the said dispute, and make a report to the meeting, who are the proper persons to represent said portion of Luzerne county in the conference.

The chairman then appointed the following committee on credentials—D. A. Lowenberg, J. H. Schull, and C. J. Murray.

Word was sent into the Conference that Mr. Brandon had stated that he had not been informed of their intention of going into a Conference, and the chairman was appointed a committe to wait upon Mr. Brandon, and request the attendance of his conferees. The chairman did so, and returned with the statement that he so invited Mr. Brandon, who admitted that a delegation had waited upon the delegates from Montour and Pike counties and invited them to a conference to nominate a candidate for Congress, but he said it was too late now to assent to their request.

On motion of David Lowenberg, of Columbia, the chairman was requested to appoint a committee of four on permanent organization.

The chairman appointed—J. W. Hoffman Paul Kreiger, Dr. T. J. Swisher and Dr. J. H. Schull.

On motion of Dr. Seem, the Conference adjourned to meet in the sitting room of the hotel in the evening at 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The Conference met again at 7 o'clock in pursuance of the resolution of adjournment.

The committee on permanent organization reported as follows:

President, Hon. A. G. Broadhead, Vice President, Dr. A. H. Seem; Secretaries, Dr Schull, and Dr. Swisher.

On motion the report was accepted, and the Conference adjourned until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

The chairman of the Conference composed of the conferees from Columbia, Carbon and Monroe, called the Conference to order at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Schull, of monroe county submitted the following propositiou:

STROUDSBURG, October 2, 1878.

We the Conferees from Columbia, Carbon and Monroe counties, respectfully submit to the other counties in which there are no contests, comprising the 11th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, in order to secure harmony and unity in our action, in asmuch, as it is a question whether Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, are each entitled to an equal representation with the other counties, and also which of the two sets of conferees from Luzerne county are entitled to seats in the conference, that the conferees from Columbia, Carbon, Monroe, Montour and Pike, meet in Convention, to effect a temporary organization, appoint a committee on contests and representation, and proceed to business.

David Lowenburg,
Dr. T. J.Swisher,
John W. Hoffman.

Conferees from Columbia county.
Hon. A. G. Broadhead,
Paul Kreiger,
Chas. J. Murray.

Conferees from Carbon county.
Dr. J. H. Schull,
Andrew Sebring,
Dr. A. H. Seem.

Conferees from Monroe county.

On motion of David Lowenberg, of Columbia county, Dr. Schull, of Monroe county was appointed a committee to wait upon the conferees of Montour and Pike counties, and present to them the proposition of this meeting as embodied in the above resolutions.

On motion the Conference adjourned, to meet at 1 o'clock p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Conference again assembled as per resolution of adjournment.

Mr. Schull, of Monroe, who had been appointed a committee to present a proposition to the conferees, from Montour and Pike, made a report that he had read the resolution adopted at the forenoon session to each of the conferees from Monroe and Pike, with one exception, and requested a reply on or before o'clock.

The Conference remained in session for some time waiting for a reply from the conferees, but none being received, it was suggested that the secretary Dr. Schull, see one of those conferees and leave the proposition with him for consideration. A motion to adjourn until 4½ o'clock was a tie, when the chair decided by his vote in the affirmative. Adjourned until 4½ o'clock.

WEDNESDAY EVENING SESSION.

The Conference composed of delegates from Monroe, Columbia and Carbon, assembled at 4½ o'clock as per resolution of adjournment.

The chairman stated that it would be in order to hear the committee on contested seats.

Col. Lewis, of Pike county, appeared before the Conference, and asked the privilege of being heard, which was granted. He stated that he appeared before that body contesting the right of the Rowland conferees to a seat in the Conference. He claimed that his (Lewis) conferees received a clear majority of the legal voters of Pike county, and asserted that intimidation had been used at the polls, all of which he was prepared to prove before the committee on credentials. The committee on contests having heard the case of the conferees from Luzerne county, said they were prepared to report in their case, and submitted substantially the following:

"The committee having heard from the conferees from Luzerne county, finally concluded that there was no change in the relation of the Eleventh Congressional District, by the erection of Lackawanna county. They therefore recommend that the conferees from Luzerne, namely Messrs. J. A. Gorman, S. B. Price and James B. Hutchison, be empowered to select the conferees from that portion of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, in the Eleventh Congressional District; that they select three conferees, two to represent Luzerne, and one to represent Lackawanna in this Conference.

On motion the report was adopted, and the committee discharged from the further consideration of this case.

The following communication having been received by the chairman, it was handed to the Secretary to be read for the information of the Conference:

To the Conferees of the Counties of Columbia, Carbon and Monroe

GENTLEMEN. The conferees from the counties of Montour and Pike, respectfully acknowledge the receipt of your favor bearing even date herewith, and respectfully decline to submit to the arbitration of the five counties named in your communication whatever differences may at present exist in the affairs of the Eleventh Congressional District. If you will add the county of Lackawanna, on which there is no contest to your list, making six counties before whom these differences are to be ajusted, we entertain a very reasonable hope that all questions tending to separate the different delegations will vanish.

We are at a very great loss to determine why your conferees arrogate to themselves the right to sit in judgment on the status of Lackawanna county, in face of the facts upon which representation in the district has always been fixed, and for the further fact that no contest is pending in that county, with any more shadow of authority, than they would concede to investigate the county of Carbon, or any other county within the district.

We are, gentlemen,
Respectfully your obedient servants
(Signed.)

STROUDSBURG, October 2, 1878.

THE BEAMISH-TRIMMER CONGRESSIONAL CONFERENCE.

STROUDSBURG, Oct., 1, 1878.—The Democratic Congressional Conferees from Lackawanna, Pike and Montour counties, and the Trimmer-delegation from Luzerne county arrived last evening.

This morning at 11:30 o'clock they determined to go into a temporary organization, and invited the conferees from Monroe county to join them—the conferees from Carbon, Columbia and Luzerne counties not yet having arrived. This the conferees from Monroe refused to do, stating that they should await the arrival of the other conferees, before going into even a temporary organization.

The Beamish-Trimmer conferees refused to wait the arrival of the others and at once proceeded to effect a temporary organization as follows: President, Edwin Shortz, of Luzerne; Secretaries, Dr. R. S. Simonton, of Montour, and J. A. Kipp, of Pike.

The reception of the credentials of the conferees being the next business in order, the following were handed in:

Lackawanna—Frank Beamish,
P. Daly,
John Rosen.

Luzerne—Edwin Shortz,
P. Dienan,
B. McManus.

Montour—R. S. Simonton,
W. A. Deen,
Z. Vought.

Pike—John Frazier,
Jacob Klair,
J. A. Kipp.

No conferees appeared for Carbon, Columbia and Monroe counties.

After which on motion, the conference adjourned until 2 o'clock p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Conference re-assembled at 2 o'clock, as per resolution of adjournment.

A committee from Monroe, Carbon and Columbia counties, appeared before them and invited the conferees of Montour and Pike counties, to join them in Congressional Conference, for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization, which they respectfully declined.

The Conference proceeded to make nominations for Congress when the names of Major Robert Klotz, of Carbon; Captain C. B. Brockway, of Columbia; Rank, of Lackawanna; S. W. Trimmer, of Luzerne; A. W. Brandon, of Montour, and George P. Rowland, of Pike county, were suggested as proper persons to receive the nomination.

A resolution was adopted which required a majority of all the votes to which the Conference was entitled to nominate, namely, 11.

On motion the Conference proceeded to ballot. The first ballot resulted as follows: Rank, 2; Klotz, 1; Trimmer, 3; Brandon, 3; Rowland, 3. Rosen of Scranton, voted for Klotz. Five ballots were taken without a result.

On motion adjourned until 7 o'clock in the evening.

EVENING SESSION.

An evening session was held in pursuance of the resolution of adjournment, and five more ballots was had without any result, the ballots not differing materially from those cast at the afternoon session. A motion to adjourn until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning prevailed, and the Conference adjourned.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

The Conference reassembled at 9 o'clock, according to resolution, and the ballots for Congress continued, until some twenty ballots were cast without any definite result. A motion to adjourn until 2 o'clock prevailed.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Conferees again reassembled when the balloting was renewed. After the 21st ballot was cast without result, Mr. Frank Beamish, of Scranton, asked the privilege of presenting the name of Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, of Columbia, which was granted.

On the 221 ballot Buckalew received 7 votes; Brandon, 2; Rowland, 2; Trimmer 1.

The 234 ballot resulted as follows: Buckalew, 8; Rowland, 3; Trimmer, 1.

At this point a communication from the conferees from Columbia, Carbon and Montour addressed to the conferees from Montour and Pike was received and laid on the table.

The balloting was resumed, the 24th resulted as follows: Buckalew, 8; Rowland, 2; Brandon, 1; Trimmer 1.

The 25th ballot stood, Buckalew, 8; Rowland, 2; Klotz, 1; Trimmer, 1.

The 26th ballot resulted, Buckalew, 9; Rowland, 2; Brandon, 1.

The Conference adjourned until 7½ o'clock in the evening.

The announcement of the name of Hon. Chas. R. Buckalew was not a surprise, but the fact that Mr. Buckalew had previously given it as his opinion, that Lackawanna county had no status in the convention, was not generally known, and when his name was announced the general query went abroad, how could Mr. Buckalew consistently accept a nomination from a Rump Convention which recognized Lackawanna county, as entitled to seperate and distinct representation, when he held views which were to the very reverse.

This action, however, we learned afterwards was a mere blind to Mr. Buckalew had positively declined to allow the use of his name for the congressional nomination. We have thus endeavored to sketch in a brief and comprehensive manner all the facts as they officially transpired in both political bodies, pretending to represent the Eleventh Congressional District of the State of Pennsylvania, up to six o'clock Wednesday evening, what transpired after that time, will appear in future issues, as we best gather them until the nomination is made.

LATER.

The proposition was made to the Regular Convention to admit Col A. E. Lewis' delegation from Pike but after hearing his claims, it was decided to lay his application on the table. He proved some serious irregularities at the delegate election, but not enough, in the opinion of the committee, to admit his conferees, although Pike was not represented. It was in sharp contrast to the action of the Beamish Convention.

Thursday morning did not develop anything material, and finally the Convention adjourned—too hastily we think—to meet at Hazleton on Tuesday, the 15th inst., and the Beamish Convention adjourned to Scranton, the 14th. No one can forsee the result, but unless there is harmony a Republican will be elected.

That if every one would use Hop Bitters freely, there would be much less sickness and misery in the world; and people are finding this out, whole families keeping well at a trifling cost by its use. We advise all to try it.—U. & A. Rochester, N. Y.

The Monroe Democrat of the 4th inst. explains the dispute in the Democratic Congressional conference of the eleventh district, charges the whole difficulty upon Mr. Frank Beamish, of Lackawanna, who improvised three conferees from his new county, and thus unbalanced things. It charges, also that Mr. Beamish initiated the disorganization by getting up a conference before the arrival of the Carbon and Columbia conferees, and admitting the Lackawanna delegation and an irregular delegation from Luzerne. The other conference that was organized when all the conferees had arrived, had Judge Brodhead as chairman, who doesn't make himself a foot-ball for factionists, and after the examination, the regular Luzerne delegates were admitted, and the Lewis Pike county claimants rejected. It is evident the claim of the Brodhead conference to regularity and fairness can be much better sustained than the like claim of the Beamish conference. Times.

HAYES' TITLE.

However varied may be the opinions concerning the validity of Hayes's title to the Presidency, there is not a question in the minds of either Democrats or Republicans upon one important point, viz: the unquestionable right of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines to the title of the Standard Remedies of the age. CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the permanent and speedy cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering fellows, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. AN ASTONISHING FACT.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain Millions of bottles of this med leine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for ten cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the Western Continent. aug. 30, '78-tf jl

Democratic Platform.

The democracy of Pennsylvania unanimously declare:

That the republican party, its measures and its men, are responsible for the financial distress, the misery and the want that now exist:

It has had control of the legislation of the country, and has enacted and perpetuated a policy that has enriched the few and impoverished the many;

Its system of finance has been one of favor to moneyed monopoly, of unequal taxation, of exemption of classes, of high rates of interest, and of remorseless contraction, which has destroyed every enterprise that gave employment to labor.

Its present hold upon federal power was secured by fraud, perjury and forgery. Its laws are unjust and its practices immoral; they distress the people and destroy their substance.

The only remedy for these evils is an entire change of policy and the dethronement of those in power.

And we resolve that further contraction of the volume of United States legal tender notes is unwise and unnecessary. They should be received for customs duties and reissued as fast as received.

Gold silver and United States legal tender notes at par therewith, are just basis for paper circulation.

A close connection of the federal government with the business interests of the people, through national banks, tends to monopoly and centralization, but in changing the system, uniformity of notes, security to the note holder and protection of the capital invested, should be provided for.

Treasury notes, issued in exchange for bonds, bearing a low rate of interest, is the best form in which the credit of the government can be given to a paper currency.

Labor and capital have equal demands upon and responsibilities to law. Commerce and manufactures should be encouraged, so that steady work and fair wages may be yielded to labor, whilst safety of investment and moderate returns for its use belong to capital. Violence or breach of order in support of no real or supposed rights of either should be promptly suppressed by the strong arm of the law.

The Republican party, by its legislation in 1872, which reduced the tariff on bituminous coal from $1.25 to 75 cents per ton, and upon iron, steel, wool, metals, paper glass, leather, and all manufactures of each of them ten per cent., struck a fatal blow at the industries and labor of Pennsylvania.

The public lands are the common property of the people, and they should not be sold to speculators nor granted to railroad or other corporations, but should be reserved for homesteads for actual settlers.

Our public debt should be held at home, and the bonds representing it issued in sums of small denominations, in which the savings of the masses may be safely invested.

A thorough investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished; but we oppose any attack upon the Presidential title as dangerous to our institutions and fruitless in its results.

The republican party, controlling the legislation of the state, has refused to execute many of the reforms of the constitution; and among other things, it has neglected and refused.

To compel the acceptance of all its provisions by the corporations of the state;

To prevent undue and unreasonable discrimination in charges for transportation of freight and passengers, and without abatement or drawback to any;

To give to all equal means for transporting raw material of the state in such manner and to such points as they may prefer; and

To publish in good faith monthly statements of where the money of the people was kept.

The republican party creates new offices and enormous perquisites to others, and fills them with favorites, whose chief duty is to manage its political machinery.

Its administration of the state government grows more expensive with each year of its rule.

Legislation has been directed by republican lobbyists, who in turn manipulate and control the nominations of the republican party and its candidates are the creation or a junta whose decrees are accepted as the irreversible mandates of absolute hereditary power.

We denounce these methods, these measures, and these men, as unworthy the support of an honest and free people, and we invite all of every shade of political opinion to unite with us in delivering the commonwealth from their hateful rule.

With the recent elections perished the last hope of the Republicans to reverse the democratic control of the next Congress. With a net loss of four and probably six members in Ohio and Indiana, added to the loss of one in Oregon, one in Vermont and two in Maine, with the single gain of one in Colorado to offset the account, Democratic supremacy in both the Senate and House seems to be assured on the 4th of March next.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Columbia County.

John G. Freese vs. The County of Columbia. } Motion to strike off Appeal.

1. Counties are not Municipal Corporations within the meaning of the 8th section of the 16th article of the Constitution nor of the Act of 13th June 1874, providing for appeals in certain cases.
2. The taking of private property for the purpose of highways under the general road laws, is not by virtue of any privilege invested in the counties, but is an act of power on the part of the State, exercised through its judiciary.
3. No appeal lies to the Court of Common Pleas from assessments of damages caused by the laying out of public roads by proceedings in the Quarter Sessions.

OPINION BY ELWELL, P. J.

In pursuance of an order issued out of the Court of Quarter Sessions of this county, the viewers to whom it was directed reported that they had viewed and laid out for public use a road from a point on a public road near George Zeigler's in Scott township to a point on the Mt. Pleasant road in Bloomsburg—that the road so laid passes over the improved lands of the plaintiff and that they had assessed his damages at the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars.

Within the time limited in, and in manner and form as provided by the Act of 13 June 1874, Pamph. Laws 288 an appeal was taken by the plaintiff and duly entered upon the record of the Court of Common Pleas.

On motion of Counsel for the County, a rule was granted to show cause why this appeal shall not be stricken off. The questions raised by this rule by consent of counsel were submitted to the Court without argument.

The Act of 1874 was passed for the purpose of carrying into effect the 8th section of the 16th Article of the Constitution, and in its first section provides as follows: "In all cases of damages assessed against any municipal or other corporation or individual or individuals, invested with the privilege of taking private property for public use, for property taken, injured or destroyed by the construction or enlargement of their works, highways or improvements whether such assessments shall have been made by viewers or otherwise than upon a trial in Court, and an appeal is not provided for or regulated by existing laws, an appeal may be taken by either party to the Court of Common Pleas of the proper county within thirty days from the ascertainment of the damages or the filing of a report thereof in Court pursuant to any general or special Act, and not afterwards."

Under the general road laws of the State counties are required to pay damages caused by the laying out and opening of roads through improved lands.

The questions which are presented in construing the section of the Constitution above mentioned and the act of 1874 are, whether the term municipal corporations was intended to embrace counties, and in this whether the authority to lay out roads, conferred by law upon the Courts of Quarter Sessions can be properly held to be an investiture of the county with the power or privilege of taking private property for public use.

The term municipal, originally signifying a free town or city, is now generally applied to incorporate districts, having charters granted by the legislature, or which have been erected into a borough by a decree of the Courts under general laws enacted for that purpose.

The primary and fundamental idea of a municipal corporation is an agency to regulate and administer the internal concerns of a locality in matters peculiar to the place incorporated, and not common to the state or people at large.

In his excellent treatise on Municipal Corporations Judge Dillon in volume 1 page 94 says: "Corporations intended to assist in the conduct of local government are sometimes styled political and sometimes public, sometimes civil and sometimes municipal, and certain kinds of them—with very restricted powers—quasi corporations—all these by way of distinction from private corporations. All corporations intended as agencies in the administration of civil government, are public, as distinguished from private corporations. Thus an incorporated school or county as well as city, is a public corporation; but the school district or county, properly speaking, is not, while the city is a municipal corporation.

In the case of Hamilton County vs. Mighels 7 Ohio St. Rep. 109, the distinction between municipal corporations proper, such as chartered towns or cities and involuntary quasi corporations such as counties is thus pointed out by Brinkerhoff J. in delivering the judgment of the Supreme Court. "Municipal corporations proper" he observes, "are called into existence either at the direct solicitation or by the free consent of the persons composing them for the promotion of their own local and private advantage and convenience. On the other hand, Counties are at most but local organizations which for the purpose of civil admistration are invested with a few functions characteristic of a corporate existence. They are local subdivisions of a state, created by the sovereign power of the state of its own sovereign will without the particular solicitation, consent or concurrent action of the people who inhabit them. The former (municipal) organization is asked for, or at least assented to by the people it embraces; the latter organization, (counties) is superimposed by a sovereign and paramount authority."

A municipal corporation proper, is created mainly for the interest, advantage and convenience of the locality and its people; a county organization is created almost exclusively with a view to the policy of the state at large, for purposes of political organization and civil administration in matters of finance and the general administration of justice. With scarcely an exception all the powers and functions of the county organization, have a direct and exclusive reference to the general policy of the state and are in fact but a branch of the general administration of that policy."

Counties are therefore purely auxiliaries of the state; and to the general statutes of the state they owe their creation, and the statutes confer upon them all the powers they possess, prescribe all the duties they owe and impose all the liabilities to which they are subject. Considered with respect to the limited number of their corporate powers, they are most frequently termed quasi corporations to distinguish them from municipal corporations proper.

The statute of 1834, Digest 295, does not declare counties to be corporations; it merely confers certain powers to be exercised as a corporate body. It confers no authority to make by laws or rules or regulations for the government or convenience of the people, and clearly was not intended to invest them with the powers and privileges universally invested in incorporated districts such as cities and boroughs.

In McCoy vs. Washington county 3 Phil. Rep. 232 Mr. Justice Grier said of the defendant that it was "a municipal corporation and not a private one." The remark was unnecessary for the case as the authority to create the debt in suit was conferred by Act of Assembly and not by any inherent authority as a municipal corporation.

In Commonwealth vs. Morrisy 6 Weekly Notes 72 it was held that a school treasurer is a municipal officer within the meaning of the Act of 1860 which makes it a misdemeanor for any state, county, township or municipal officer to convert to his use the funds entrusted to him for safe keeping. In delivering the opinion of the Court Mr. Justice Woodward said the character of counties and townships as municipal corporations was fixed by Act of Assembly. But I do not understand him to mean by this anything more than that they can exercise certain limited powers as if they were a corporation.

It appears to me that the exact status of counties was stated by Mr. Justice Geo. W. Woodward in Kittaning Academy vs. Brown, 5 Wright 272. He says. "If counties were municipal corporations they would have the power of regulating their internal police by what the old Romans called leges municipales. But they lack the legislative faculty and so are not strictly corporations, still they are quasi corporations. They can perform many of the functions of municipalities. They can sue and be sued, can purchase, hold, and alien lands, can appoint agents to execute their will, but because they cannot legislate, everything done by the county must be authorized by the legislative power of the State."

In speaking of school districts, the same learned Judge said in Wheeler vs. School Directors, 6 Wright 363. "They belong to that class of quasi corporations to which townships and counties belong." To the same effect and nearly in the same language is the opinion of Mr. Justice Mercur in delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court in Comth. vs. Beamish 3 Weekly Notes 111. In other States the same view is taken, as will be seen by numerous cases by reference to 3 U. S. Digest 616.

I am therefore of opinion that although counties may exercise certain limited and defined powers as if they were corporations, they are not municipal corporations within the meaning of the section of the constitution, and of the Act of Assembly under consideration.

But if they are municipal corporations, they are not within the provisions of the statute for the reason that they are not invested with the privilege of taking private property for public use for highways.

From the commencement of proceedings to lay out a public road, to its being finally confirmed and opened for use, and from thence through all time, a county has nothing whatever to do with it, except to pay damages and expenses in compliance with a general law of the state.

The taking is by the state by right of eminent domain, in the manner provided by its laws, through the agency of its judiciary. It has always been the policy of the state to make provision for necessary highways for all its citizens; and to that end, in grants of its lands there was added six per cent. for roads and the Courts of the state were clothed with authority to appoint viewers and to establish roads. This may be done without the consent or even against the protest of the county officials. They are invested with no power, authority or privilege pertaining to the matter.

The expense of opening and repairing roads is to be borne by the township in which they are located—after being established they are held to be township and not county roads. The decisions of the Courts are to the effect that they are their (the townships) roads. Dean vs. New Milford township 5 W. & S. 547. Alcorn vs. City of Philadelphia 8 Wright 351—and they and not the county are liable for damages caused by neglect to keep them in repair.

I am of opinion therefore that no appeal is allowed or provided for by the Act of 1874 from an assessment of damages returned by viewers appointed by the Court of Quarter Sessions to lay out a public road.

The framers of the Constitution and the legislature which passed the act clearly did not intend to flood the Courts with the amount of litigation any expense which would be sure to happen and be incurred if an appeal might be taken, and a trial by jury had, in every case of damages assessed or refused by viewers. I have had no difficulty in reaching this conclusion, but the importance of the question seemed to demand that the reasons which led to it should be placed upon record,

And now October 5, 1878, Rule made absolute and Appeal stricken off.

THE GREENBACK SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

This body concluded their labors at Danville on Tuesday night by nominating Peter Herdie's nephew. As there were $2,000 floating about, it was decided to vote by Secret ballot! Lycoming we are assured did vote for Hendie, so that it's vote must have come from Columbia County. Was Smith sold out, or did he—well at any rate our Democratic Greenback friends have now the evidence that they are the cats-paws to draw out Cameron chestnuts, and they are called upon to aid the Republicans in sending a life-long Cameron Republican to the senate to secure Don Cameron's reelection to the U. S. Senate. It is also remarkable how gleeful the Republicans are about the result, and of course will endorse Herdie. Their motto is "Anything to beat the Democrats".

Except marching and drill the 14th did not see much service. Although several marches were made for the purpose, they never succeeded in encountering the enemy. They were with Gen. Patterson on the Potomac. Upon being mustered out, a large number of the men took service in other regiments recruiting for the war.

Treasure hunters in Hayti are very desirous of finding about $30,000,000 buried by Toussaint L' Ouverture, the negro insurrection leader, toward the close of the last century, when he was on the point of surrendering to the French. He caused the coin to be placed in sacks and carried to a place near Port-au-Prince in three wagons, guarded by ten soldiers. He ordered ten men to dig the hole for their reception, and, after covering them, to return immediately with the wagons and escort. After the work had been accomplished the party returned, but were fired on from ambush by a battalion of soldiers under the command of Toussaint himself. All were killed, and the secret of the treasure's location was lost with Toussaint's death. An officer connected with the battallion had received intimations of the intended burial, butobtained no knowledge of the spot. The luxuriant vegetation of the tropics speedily covered it.

All of Tunkhannock, is wondering how Leslie Smith, aged 8, contrived, unassisted to climb out of a well thirty-two feet deep, in which was eight feet of water, into which he had fallen while practising gymnastics on the well sweep.

Miscellaneous.

Capturing Sea-Lions in Alaska.

A singular method is annually employed by the natives of St. Paul's Island, Alaska, for the capture of the sea-lion. Here is an island which, instead of presenting an almost unbroken line of bold, abrupt cliffs to the sea, like others in the North Pacific, offers to the seals a low, though gradually rising ground. Taking advantage of this topography, the natives of St. Paul's Island secure every season hundreds of sea-lions, with but a tithe of the labor and exposure by which their capture is attended at other places. Eleven miles north-east from the village on St. Paul's Island is a point upon which a large number of sea lions annually repair for the purposes of breeding, etc., but as this animal is timid, and sure to take to water when brought into the presence of man, its capture requires much discretion and boldness on the part of its captors, who are chosen every season from the village people, with especial reference to their physical qualification for the work. The 'sea richie' as the natives name them, cannot be approached successfully by daylight; so the hunters, ten or twelve in number, rendezvous in a hut near by until a favorable night comes on, when the moon is partially obscured by drifting clouds and the wind blows in from the rookery. Then they step down to the beach, at low water, and proceed to creep flat on all fours over the surf beaten sand and bowlders up to the dozing herd and between them and the water; in this way a small body of men crawling along in Indian may pass unnoticed by the sea lion sentries which doubtless in the uncertain light confound the form of their human enemies with those of seals. When the creeping natives have all reached the strip of beach which is left bare by ebb tide between the water and the unsuspecting animals, at a given signal, the hunters leap at once to their feet, shout, yell, and brandish their arms while the astonished lions roar and flounder in all directions. If, at the moment of surprise, the brutes are sleeping with their heads pointed toward the water, they charge straight on in that way, directly over the men; but if their heads have been resting pointed landward, they follow that course just as desperately, and nothing will turn them at first, either one way or the other. Those who charge for the water are lost, of course, but the natives promptly follow up the land leaders with a rare combination of horrible noises and demoniacal gesticulations until the frenzied spurt and exertions of the terrified animals completely exhaust them, and then, panting, gasping, prone upon the earth they are extended at the mercy of their cunning captors, who gently urge them along up to the hut in which they have been keeping watch during several days past, for the night in which to make this effort. Here the natives have what they call their pen or cage, in which the lion-like seals, as they are captured from night to night, are collected and retained until sufficient numbers or a drove of three or four hundred has been secured. This cage is nothing mre than a succession of small poles stuck at wide intervals over a circle, in the ground; these poles are decked with fluttering strips of white cotton cloth, and light ropes are loosely stretched from one to the other. Within this flimsy circle the sea-lions are securely imprisoned, and though incessantly watched by two or three men, they scarcely make an effort to escape, but their roaring is almost deafening, while they constantly writhe and twist over and against one another like a handful of angle-worms in a saucer.—[From illustrated paper by Henry W. Elliot, Scribner for October.]

Artemus Ward as a Practical Joker.

Browne and Griswold, 'the Fat Contributor,' were on newspaper work at the same time in Cleveland, and they were very intimate friends. One day there came to the city a dramatic reader, a man of some note, but of a very timid disposition. These two worthies in some manner discovered that he was a person easily to be imposed upon, and shortly after his arrival they paid him a visit. It was an early hour in the morning—long after the man had retired,—and they found it difficult to arouse him. They told him they were editors, and wanted to hear him read before writing him up. They invited him to step into a hall adjoining the hotel and give them a specimen of his powers. As first the man refused to go with them, but when they told him sternly that they were editors, and would crush him if he did not comply, he felt compelled to go. Nor would they allow him to put on his clothes, but forced him to go in a night dress to a cold and dreary hall, while they complacently smoked their cigars while they listened to him declaim, with chattering teeth and trembling voice for several hours. When they finally permitted him to go, they told him, by way of consolation, that they had always thirsted to hear a dramatic reader in night-dress, and that they were much gratified with his performance.

Browne was a great lover of a practical joke. One of his maddest pranks was in New York City, in 1863. He had been at some benefit performance with Dan Bryant and Nelse Seymour, and at its conclusion he induced these two to join him on a lark. Accordingly they went to Bryant's property room, and each donned a complete suit of armor. Then they armed themselves with broadswords, and in the still hours of the night went forth in search of defenseless citizens. Up and down the streets in grim array they marched, and whenever they found a man alone and unarmed, they would make him down on his knees and pray for mercy. Then, after having frightened him almost out of his senses, they would permit him to go on his way. Their fun, however, after a while was brought to an abrupt termination by the police who marched them off to the Tombs. They entered fictitious names: but the judge next morning recognized the culprits, and discharged them with an admonition. On the same night they visited the house of Tom Jackson, who had just brought to this country the famous Swiss bell-ringers. In response to their violent ringing of the bell, Jackson came to an upper window, and not knowing who his visitors were, asked them in tones of thunder what they wanted.

"We want an engagement," said Browne. "We are the original bell-ringers."

Jackson then recognized them, and, appreciating the joke, invited them in.—[C. C. Buthrauff in October Scribner.]

The attention of Gen. Dook, of the Agricultural Department, is called to the fact that a very fine article of Sweitzer cheese can be made from the milk of the cocanut. The cocanut could be very profitably cultivated in uhe bonana zone along the Northern Pacific railway. Gen. Dook has it in his power too, to simplify the labor question by introducing the bread-fruit tree in this country. It is believed that by crossing the bread-fruit tree with some active variety of spring wheat, a species of vegetation could be produced from which the agile Greenbacker could pick his hot rolls in the morning without a particle of labor. By grafting the bread-fruit tree on our common butternut tree, it is thought that the splendid buttered waffles, so much in vogue with the bondholders and lickspittle capitalists, could be produced in profusion at little or no cost.—Baltimore Gazette.

GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE AMMONIA.

Cures all Pain in Man and Beast

TESTIMONIALS:

PROLAPSUS UTERI (Falling of the Womb.) A Wonderful Cure.—Nine years my wife suffered with this terrible complaint. She was attended by doctor after doctor, went to the different hospitals where females are treated; tried them all; wore bandages and pessaries with only temporary relief. Her life was miserable. We applied Dr. Giles' Liniment. Her relief was immediate. She is now well.

H. MCDERMOTT,
40 West 19th street, New York.

I had twelve strokes of Paralysis. My leg, arm and tongue were useless; was obliged to use a catheter every day. Doctor Giles Liniment Iodide of Ammonia has cured me. Will answer any inquiries so that all afflicted may know of it.

JOHN APPEL, No 7th branford, Conn.
Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, April 22, '76.

W. M. Giles, Esq., Dear Sir—I used your Iodide of Ammonia Liniment on Piera Tenplee's hind pastern joint. She had been quite lame; the effect was wonderful; she walks now quite well. Very respectfully yours,

A. WELCH.

P. S.—I am now using it on Littleton's right fore leg.

A large shoe boil on a valuable young horse was removed by Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia.

SHEPHERD KNAPP,

ASTHMA—The tortures and agonies I endured for six years, none but those who have suffered with this terrible disease can know. My life was miserable. In desperation I tried Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia. It gave me instant relief. Used it internally as well as externally.

THOS. BRANIGAN,
137 west 27th street, New York.

I was in a dreadful condition. Joints swollen, pain intense. Injections of morphine into my veins failed to relieve me. Giles' Iodide of Ammonia took away the deposits from my joints. I want every one who suffers to know what will cure them.

FRANCES LORIMOR,
North Hyde Park, Lamoille co., Vt.

Another Sufferer cured.—Discharged from the Massachusetts General Hospital as incurable, with lotta-sciatica rheumatism in my shoulders, fingers and feet; suffered fearfully for three years, tried everything; lost all hope. Dr. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia effected a complete cure.

RICHARD SITH,

Sprains, splints, bruises, Lameness in horses, Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia is a perfect specific. No person who owns a horse should be without it.

M. RODENS,

In my family, and for the stock, I have used Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia. It is unsurpassed, and I am surprised at the many different maladies in which it is applicable. It gives the utmost satisfaction.

It is useless to expatiate upon the virtues of this GREAT REMEDY. VIGORENE

SUFFERED 30 YEARS.

Jersey City, September 2d, 1878.

No tongue can tell what I have suffered for the past 30 years from CONSTIVENESS and BLIND BLEEDING PILES, at times so bad that I could not stand upon my feet. I could not walk half a mile without suffering intense agony which would bring on severe illness.

About one year ago I was induced to try a bottle of your VIGORENE and am glad to state that after taking four bottles I was entirely cured of both diseases and am now enjoying excellent health and strength. I advise all similarly afflicted to try VIGORENE.

MRS. G. F. FERRIS, 124 Sussex St.

DON'T GO FOOLING AROUND.

As a regulating medicine I can confidently recommend VIGORENE. I have used it in my family and know others who have tried it, and all pronounce it good and reliable. It don't go loafing around and disappoint you by making no stir, but it attends to business and accomplishes that wherunto it is sent.

WM. H. BUTALL, Riverhead, L. I.

Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects a perfect and radical cure.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and many well-authenticated cases of the most desperate character have been reported. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
